

DocuSign Enhances Service at Leading International Patent Law Practice

Much quicker turnaround, far less paper

Background

As one of the largest law firms in the U.S., practicing exclusively in the areas of intellectual property, litigation and corporate law, they have hundreds of attorneys across North America, Europe and Asia, and process thousands of United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) forms each year.

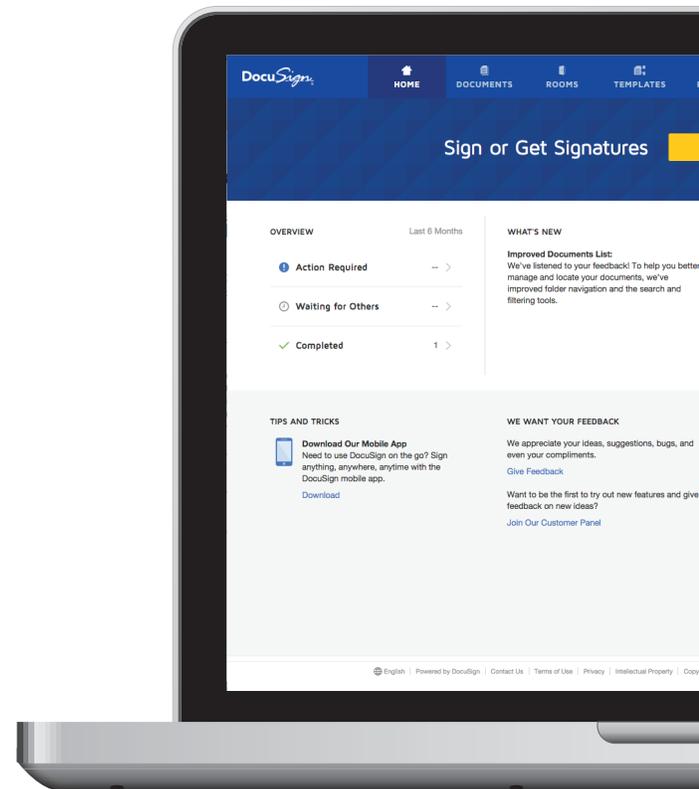

Challenge

Concerned with both the time required to process volumes of paper documentation and the necessity to seal them in order to prevent unauthorized alteration, this leading law firm decided to advance from paper to a highly secure electronic signature solution. The solution would have to allow third-party validation without requiring additional software. Furthermore, the solution would have to comply with the growing body of security regulations for legal documents.

Solution

The DocuSign Signature Appliance, the most trusted on-premises signing solution for regulated industries and markets, was chosen for its superior capabilities. The Signature Appliance solution meets stringent security and regulatory requirements and could be tightly integrated with the firm's myriad processes, saving considerable time and expense.

Implementation was quick and straightforward, and the DocuSign Signature Appliance, formerly CoSign Central, was easily integrated with the way the firm works. The seamlessness of the integration made training simple and provided an immediate boost to employee productivity.
